

When you put in Effort in your Friendship, then it will last Forever.

Keeping a friendship strong requires focus and effort. We must always act fairly, and do our best to play with a good attitude. We should strive to be happy. Some days, we may get frustrated at a friend, and other days, we may feel like fighting with a friend. It is important to focus on the good points of the friendship and work out whatever is making you unhappy. Friends help make your life fun and interesting. Therefore, focus on keeping your friendships strong.

It is very important to focus on what you wish to accomplish. If you do, you will always succeed.

When we begin an assignment, it is important to focus our thoughts and energy on that task. If we allow ourselves to become distracted, we will not put forth our best effort. We must always try our hardest to reach our goals, focusing all our attention on the job we are trying to do.

Place all other thoughts aside, and use all your energy to accomplish your goal.
